Amy Chitwood—Amy has been competing horses her entire life in Pony Club, 4-H, State Fairs, AQUA and local hunter/jumper/dressage shows. As a member of the British Pony Club, she was ranked up to the B level before moving to the United States in 1993. Since then, she has taught all levels of riding from 5 year old beginners through advanced adult riders in dressage, hunter, jumper as well as Western and Gaited disciplines.

Janice Mumford—Janice is a graduate of USDF's "L" program for judges. She is a successful FEI-level rider and has earned her USDF Bronze and Silver medals. Prior to entering the Dressage arena, Janice showed quarter hores on the AQUA circuit, specializing in the hunter divisions. She recently attended NCSU's Open Horse Show Judges' Certification Program in Raleigh, NC. For several years, Janice has helped all levels of riders advance their horsemanship skills by teaching for Kathy Rowse in her absence and any else who needs assistance. Janice judges several dressage shows each year and regularly clinics with Kathy Rowse and Jim Koford.

Robyn Nunnally—Robyn grew up riding hunters over fences, including intercollegiate competition as part of the William & Mary riding team. Then she showed Arabians for almost 20 years, winning national titles in several divisions such as show hack, dressage, hunter pleasure, and sidesaddle. Robyn has been training riders and horses for over 20 years. She is NCSU Certified Open Horse Show Judge in all divisions: hunter, western, saddleseat and gaited. Robyn rides regularly with Kathy Rowse and Jim Koford to continue her riding education.

Kathy Rowse—Kathy is a USDF Bronze, Silver & Gold medalist and is an "S" dressage judge. She has been riding and training dressage horses and riders for over 25 years, with experience up to the Grand Prix level of competition for herself and several students. Kathy regularly participates in clinics with Olympic-level trainers and hosts monthly clinics with Jim Koford at her farm in Chuckatuck. Her systematic approach to correct basics insures success for all levels of riders, from Intro to the FEI.
